

BC NATURAL RESOURCES FORUM

Our Resources - Our Future

23rd Annual BC Natural Resources Forum MOMENTUM FOR CONTINUED GROWTH: BUILDING B.C.'S RESOURCE FUTURE

January 20 - 22, 2026
Prince George Conference and Civic Centre

Proudly Hosted by

We would like to acknowledge that the area we know today as Prince George is located on the unceded traditional territories of the Lheidli T'enneh First Nation, and we honour their language, culture and history.

Chief Dolleen Logan
Lheidli T'enneh First Nation

Welcome everyone to our unceded traditional territory, our home community of Prince George, and the 23rd Annual BC Natural Resources Forum.

With shifting political priorities, and legislation that moves major projects forward, this year's theme 'Momentum for Continued Growth: Building B.C.'s Resource Future' is very fitting.

But growth and momentum cannot come at the expense of Indigenous rights and title.

The conversations taking place this year will help to shape the types of projects we see in B.C. and Canada for years to come. And it is important that the relationships we have taken time and care in building over the last decade do not erode by pushing too fast when it comes to shared priorities and reconcili-ACTION.

First Nations in B.C. have shown our willingness to not just be participants, but to be viable project owners. And we look forward to being at the forefront of growth towards our shared future.

Enjoy your time in our territory and in our home community. I look forward to seeing you all during BCNRF.

Lheidli T'enneh

Honourable David Eby, K.C.

Premier of British Columbia
Government of B.C.

Natural resources are, and will always be, foundational to British Columbia's economy. They deliver the materials we need to build our homes, businesses and transportation networks, the good jobs and revenues needed for thriving communities, and the energy we need to power our society.

The 2026 BC Natural Resources Forum comes at critical moment for British Columbia. Over the past year President Trump has slammed our economy with punishing tariffs, with extra levies against many of our most important resource industries. In response, we've been redoubling our efforts to expand our trading partnerships and make British Columbia into the economic engine of Canada – with natural resources front and central to that strategy.

This year's forum offers an important opportunity for First Nations, governments, and the natural resource sector to come together, build stronger relationships, and find ways to leverage our advantages to benefit people and communities.

My team and I look forward to participating in the 2026 BC Natural Resources Forum, and working together to create a stable, attractive investment climate so we can play a lead role in Canada's economic future, and deliver jobs and benefits to British Columbians today and for generations to come.

Sarah Weber

President and CEO
C3 Alliance

It is my sincere pleasure to extend a warm welcome to the 23rd Annual BC Natural Resources Forum, hosted on the traditional territories of the Lheidli T'enneh First Nation.

As the Chair of the Forum Advisory Committee, I am thrilled to be part of this year's event with the theme, 'Momentum for Continued Growth: Building B.C.'s Resource Future.' This year's Forum reflects on a critical time for western Canada's resource sector, one defined by renewed confidence, accelerated infrastructure and project development, and a strong commitment to inclusive growth through meaningful Indigenous partnerships.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for your participation in this year's Forum. Your engagement enhances the dialogue and contributes meaningfully to the future of B.C.'s resource sector. I also offer my deepest thanks to our sponsors and Advisory Committee for their indispensable support in making this event a reality.

I look forward to the insightful discussions, new partnerships, and innovative ideas that will emerge from this transformative gathering. I eagerly anticipate the thoughtful dialogue, strategic collaborations, and forward-thinking ideas that will emerge from this year's Forum.

Simon Pascoe

General Manager
Rio Tinto BC Works

As Patron Sponsor, Rio Tinto BC Works is honoured to support this important gathering of leaders, communities, and innovators who are shaping the future of British Columbia's resource economy.

The theme of this year's Forum—Momentum for Continued Growth—reflects the rising support for a modern, inclusive approach to resource development. Our commitment to low-carbon innovation, community impact, and economic growth is matched by our dedication to building respectful and enduring partnerships with Indigenous communities.

The strength of the relationships we have with the communities that host us, our First Nation partners and broader society, is central to our business. Although making aluminium, by its very nature, can affect the environment and surrounding communities, it brings with it significant economic opportunities and social benefits. These include the production of essential materials, job creation, small business growth, tax and royalty contributions, skills development, and socioeconomic programs. We know our operations can have a lasting impact, and that we have a responsibility to shape that impact in a way that helps build strong, thriving communities wherever we operate.

This forum is an opportunity to listen, learn, and lead—together. We look forward to the conversations and collaborations that will help us build a more resilient, equitable, and low-carbon future for all British Columbians.

Rio Tinto

Thank you to the 2026 BC Natural Resources Forum Advisory Committee, conference management staff, the hotels, the Northern B.C. service and supply sector and many individuals who assisted in guiding the program and event.

With so many individuals involved in the planning and management of this event, we apologize to anyone we may have missed. Please know your support is greatly appreciated.
